Availity enhancement: real-time appeal status updates

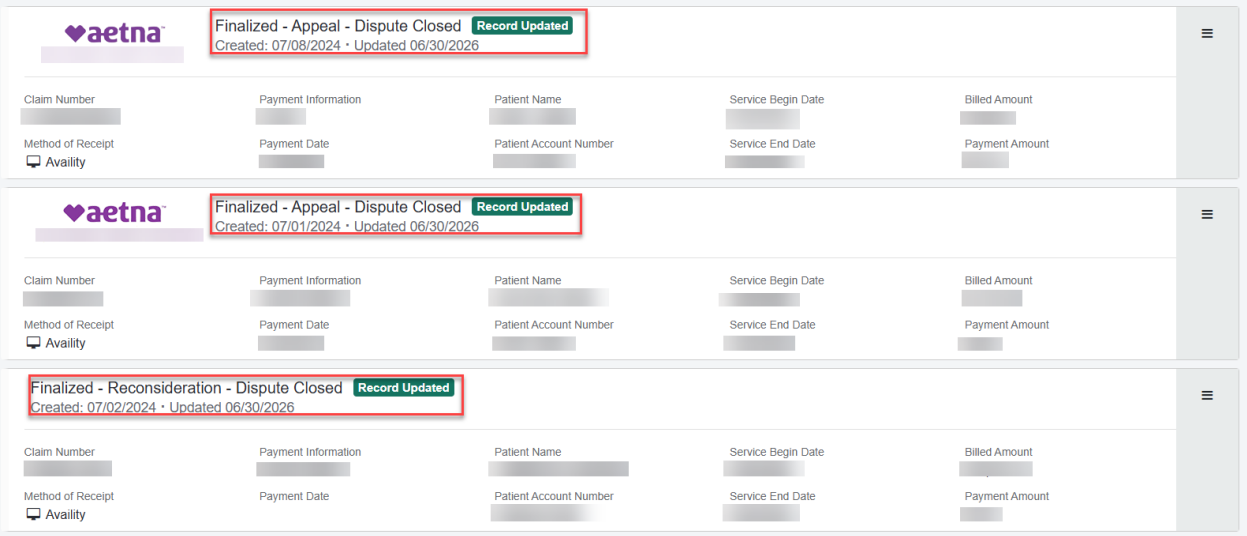

You asked for better visibility into the status of appeals and reconsiderations, and we listened. Beginning October 17, Availity will provide real-time status information for appeals and disputes submitted through the portal—making it easier to track your cases without contacting Aetna for an update.

What's changing?

As part of a system enhancement, providers will now be able to access real-time appeal and dispute status information for all appeals and disputes submitted through Availity. Please refer to the examples provided below displaying the future experience to illustrate the real time update.

Example: When a case is submitted in Availity by a provider.

Example: what Availity will provide as an update to the appeal/dispute status once a case has been closed.

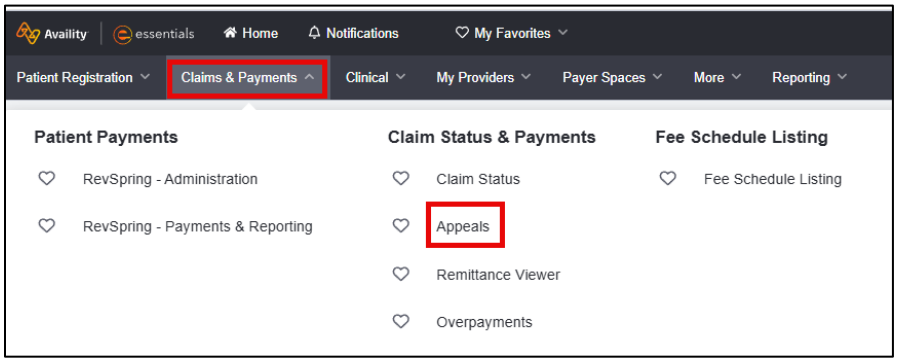

This enhancement resolves a previous issue that limited appeal status visibility and provides a more seamless self-service experience when tracking submitted appeals and disputes.

What this means

Beginning October 17, providers will be able to:

- View the current status of submitted appeals and disputes in real time.
- Access status information directly through Availity without needing to contact Aetna Better Health for updates.
- Monitor appeals and disputes more efficiently through enhanced self-service functionality.

The Appeals Dashboard can be accessed through the Claims & Payments page as shown below.

Example: Select Claims & Payments, then choose Appeals.

What is not changing

- The appeal and dispute submission process remains unchanged.
- Existing appeal and dispute requirements, timelines, and workflows remain unchanged.
- This update only affects the visibility of appeal and dispute status information within Availity.

Thank you for your continued partnership.

Sincerely,

Provider Engagement Aetna Better Health®
